Lieutenant Shawn Arruti Presented an overview of the ISC Annual Business Meeting held in Oklahoma City, OK between August 25, 2014 and August 27, 2014. Prior to the overview, the following ISC issues were discussed:

- Lt. Arruti pointed out that all three executive members, Rebecca Salazar, Marsha Kimble-Simms and Jennifer Olsen were expiring their two year term this year and would need to contact Ms. Annalyn Bo Carrillo if interested in continuing to serve on the Council;

- Nevada imported 965 ISC Offenders this year and exported 1481 Offenders. We are still an export state.

- ICOTS VINEwatch: A program designed to provide victims of interstate compact offenders with various rights of notification pertaining to certain activities involving the offender.

OVERVIEW

Since it was not a rule making year for the conference, various informative workshops were held for participants.

- Supervision on Indian Reservations: Major Madris participated in this workshop as she is developing Memorandums of Understanding for the Division to utilize in dealing with offender’s living on Indian reservations. While we have had no issues in the past, it is important to have a working relationship with, and understanding of, the various Tribal Councils within our jurisdiction.

- Dispute Resolution Process: This workshop outlined the process to follow when two states interpret regulations differently, from the beginning all the way to the National Council.

- Issues with Supervision and the Legalization of Marijuana: The two states which have legalized Marijuana, Colorado and Washington, have very different ways of handling offenders within their states. Washington shared that it does not test offenders for marijuana use unless specified by the sentencing authority for an offender while Colorado still tests all offenders. For states transferring their offenders to these states for supervision under the compact, these states treat interstate offenders in the same manner that they treat their own offenders under like circumstances.

- Justice Reinvestment: This is being handled differently in every state. Commissioner Madris indicated that we will be reaching out to other states, particularly Utah and Oregon, where progress has been made, to see what works and gain a better understanding of the possibilities.

Following the presentation, Lt. Arruti updated the committee on the status of our dispute with the State of California. California was sanctioned for failure to comply in a timely manner with Compact transactions and violation reports.
